Non-GMO Feed Identity Preservation

A guide to keeping non-GMO feed identified and separate from other feeds. Producers and mills use it to document sourcing, handling and storage.

Farm / unit: _____ Date: _____ By: _____

1. Define the identity standard you follow
2. Collect supplier documentation
3. Label bins and tanks clearly
4. Separate storage from other feed
5. Clean equipment between feeds
6. Track lots from receipt to feeding
7. Keep records and test results
8. Review the system on a set schedule

YOUR NOTES

TIP Check the standard of your buyer or certifier, since programs differ in what they require.