Farm Value-Added Product Labeling Guide

A farm value-added product labeling guide for food makers preparing package labels. It lists what to gather and check so labels match the rules that apply to your product.

Farm / unit: _____ Date: _____ By: _____

1. Identify the product and its category
2. Check state and federal label rules
3. List ingredients in the order required
4. Check allergen statement needs
5. Add business name and address
6. Confirm how net amount is shown
7. Check any required safe handling text
8. Proof the label with an agency contact
9. Keep a copy of every approved label

YOUR NOTES

TIP Ask your state food agency or the FDA to confirm label requirements, since rules depend on the type of product.
